MOBILITY

“The value proposition of AR is having all content on one device, and the ability to interact with infinite content.

By 2019 there will be over a billion Smartphones in the world. We offer AR solutions in a variety of areas.

Imagine a customer being able to immediately whip out his or her smartphone and see your product, like it on social media and tell their friends all from one screen.

A maintenance and repair worker with the ability to visualize and receive step by step instruction onsite while getting a piece of equipment up and running quickly, saving his company millions of dollars.
